

2017 MIDSTATE SESSIONS

March 10, 2017
Eastern Illinois University
Lantz Arena
Charleston, IL

Writing Good Standards-Based Assessments

Deb Vogel, IAHPERD Curriculum, Instruction & Assessment Committee

Infusing New Content Ideas into Your Secondary Curriculum

Scott Ronspies; Eastern Illinois University, Charleston & EIU Students

EIU Methods students will explore with the audience new content and teaching ideas as they relate to secondary physical education. Information presented can be used Monday morning to motivate and engage all students! Topics covered will include: Content, Teaching Techniques, Assessment, and Engagement.

Formative Assessments & Getting Data – gathering data and what to do with it

Judy Tiggelaar; IAHPERD Past-President, Monroe School, Hinsdale

Using Activities, Projects, and Technology to Teach Skills in Health

Brian VanMersbergen; IAHPERD President, New Trier High School, Northfield

In this session we will share activities and projects that guide students into developing skills in health education. Skills include motivation, decision making, health literacy, & communication.

Writing Rubrics

Scott Ronspies; Eastern Illinois University, Charleston

Rubrics for Level 2 and 3 assessments, Rubrics for 3 learning domains. Rubrics examples and create.

Elementary Activities

Will Navis; Lincoln Elementary School, St. Charles

The session will focus on activities to take back into your gym tomorrow with fitness running through each activity!

Fitness Testing for Students with Disabilities – The Brockport

Tara McCarthy; Cooperative Association for Special Education, Glen Ellyn

Understanding the Brockport Fitness Test, its modifications for fitness testing, and proper test protocols in your PE classes.